Next meeting: Monday, 20 November 2017

Hibiscus Coast RSA, Vipond Road, Stanmore Bay.

Doors open 9.40 am for a 10 am start; meeting ends at approx 11.45 am

Morning Tea: We are unsure of the catering system at the RSA. Would "Church History" and "Cinematique" groups please be on stand-by in case we are required to serve and tidy up after.

From the President:

In the last newsletter I gave details of a Christmas lunch at the Hibiscus Coast RSA. Since then you have had details for booking your tickets and I am pleased to say the response has been good. I am sorry if you have not booked already as it is now too late. We have had to give numbers attending to the caterers.

We have also decided to have our NOVEMBER GENERAL MEETING at the RSA as well. It will begin at the usual time of 9.40 am. We will just have a cup of tea or coffee and biscuit not the usual special Christmas fare supplied by Shirley and Jim Smith. There will be a bar for anyone wanting to take other refreshment. Our talks will be from U3A members which should be very interesting and diverse. Besides being a pleasant pre-Christmas occasion, we are planning this as a possible alternative to meeting at the Presbyterian Church in the future. We are very grateful to the Church authorities for the previous use of their space, but parking has become an acute problem, along with some sound and visual incompatibilities with modern equipment. Unfortunately the system at RSA may not be compatible either, hence the 'try-out' in November. We would be interested in any feedback about suitability of the venue after the event, please.

On 20 September, I, along with Vice President Kay McLean and member Cynthia Green went to the annual U3A in Action meeting at St Chad's Church in Meadowbank. There was an entertaining speaker (see Cynthia's report below), then short presentations from various other U3A groups. We did not give one this year, although Cynthia was on 'standby' for the History Group if required. There were about 300 members attending and it was most interesting to chat with others. Ours is one of the largest groups, some being as small as 20 members.

We are coming to the end of the year and soon it will be the AGM in March. I will be stepping down as President and Kay Mc Lean will, I hope, be taking over. That leaves the position of Vice President free. We will also need a Secretary; Dee Davies has kindly been standing in, but will not continue after March. So please give some thought to putting your hands up. We need you!

Finally, incredibly, this is my last chance this year, in the newsletter, to wish everyone "HAPPY CHRISTMAS".

Chris Curtis, President

Report from U3A in Action Network Meeting (29 September 2017)

Guest Speaker: Professor Paul Moon, Professor of History at AUT

His Topic: Nostalgia and Utopianism in NZ

History is not something we can prove in the way we can prove (by experiment) that water boils at a certain temperature. Facts can be the same but are seen differently by different people - none of us has a perfectly shared perception. At the age of seven, children begin to have a sense of history. We THINK we have a shared experience - but research shows that only 89% of those surveyed had heard of Helen Clark as a former Prime Minister and only 61% had heard of David Lange. Only 12 ½% had heard of Sir Edmund Hillary. A young NZ journalist was shown a picture of a man she didn't recognize - it was Robert Muldoon. Because of social networking now, increasingly, people are more concerned with what happens NOW.

Nostalgia: This was once seen as a medical condition. "The good old days" - looking back with fondness - forgetting pain can be a coping mechanism - a sort of 'inoculation' from the memory of pain. "We never used to lock our doors" - few had anything worth stealing! Trump: "Let's make USA great again!" Which time? Everyone would have different idea of which time. Brexit vote: some wanting England to be as they remembered years ago. But it was never so wonderful for many - memory can be of a past that never existed. Memory is a prosthetic - we are not born with it but attach it to ourselves. Nostalgia can be choreographed, e.g. Napier Art Deco - highly nostalgic, selective. No recognition of Depression of 1930s/lack of jobs. Nostalgia can have political value in talk about "we never used to have these problems" as if we had a 'golden age' in the past.

Utopianism: Can be revolutionary (Karl Marx/Adolf Hitler) or evolutionary.

Gardening utopia: People dying of the plague, rats everywhere in England but people here planted English cottage gardens as they remembered another England; 1920s people had worked on farms so wanted a quarter-acre section - and planted ferns at their front doors; in 1950s wanting to remember warmer climates planted oleanders and hibiscus.

Utopianism wears out! Karl Popper said, "Utopia would never be achieved because everyone would have to agree." (Except by force - e.g. North Korea).

"History is more influenced by nostalgia than we realize."

To inform and entertain us at the November Meeting ...

November's meeting is mainly social and a wrap up of the year. There won't be an outside speaker but as in 2016, there will be a series of reports from convenors or members of groups.

As well as the normal report of the groups' activities, there will be some re-enactments, explanations and poems. The power of U3A is in the groups and this will be a chance to hear from some about the creativity, culture and intellectual drive that exists in branches of U3A Hibiscus Coast.

NOTICES

FOR MEMBERS WHO RECEIVE THEIR NEWSLETTER BY POST

We have recently been informed that the subsidised postage-paid envelopes from the Government are no longer available to us.

There are currently about 25 members who receive their newsletters by mail. This will involve costs of materials, postage and printing. So, regrettably, we are going to have to add $10 per year to the membership fees of those of you who receive your newsletters by mail. This will start when subscriptions are due in January 2018.

If anyone feels strongly about this, please do get in touch with me. However, this is a common practice among other U3A groups: we are fortunate not to have had to do this before.

Chris Curtis, President

NEWS FROM THE GROUPS

Art Appreciation

We have enjoyed looking at the history of both Australian and Indian art in various forms, taken from a Griff Rhys Jones DVD. The topics were discussed in detail, along with other interesting events that members had attended.

Our last meeting will take place at the Peninsula Village, in the Hibiscus room at 12.30pm when we will enjoy a shared lunch and finish the above DVD by exploring the African culture.

Convenor: Trish Litherland

Book Review Group

We meet on the third Friday of the month at members' homes and first have coffee. The format for the meetings is simple. Each member gives a verbal review of a book or books they have read during the previous month. Often a stimulating discussion develops between members who have also read the same book, or books by the same author. We find the reviews extremely helpful when choosing books from the library or for our Kindle devices. There is no set book to read and all discussion is spontaneous and engaging.

Being an avid reader, I have found this review and discussion system an excellent lead into books that I otherwise might not have discovered. If we have a hard copy of a book, we operate a lending system between members.

This group is small, about seven members, when all can attend, so we would welcome a few more members. For information contact:

Convenor: Cheril Clarke

Church History

We will be studying the emergence of the New Testament - when it was written, by whom and how it came to be accepted as canon scripture.

Convenor: Ian McLean

Cinematique

The in-house movies over the Winter months have been very much enjoyed in the Hibiscus Room at the Peninsula Village. The last film, "Lost for Words" by Deric Longden, featured Dame Thora Hird, Pete Postlethwaite and Penny Downie. It won three awards and two nominations. A heart-warming drama/ comedy of a son's relationship with his eccentric yet unique mother whose health is in decline with the onset of old age. Sound familiar? Anyway, it was extremely funny with great British wit, amazing acting and script.

This month will be our last meeting, so we will be seeing the first showing of "Murder On The Orient Express".

Convenor: Trish Litherland

Discussion

Our group includes a number of people who travel overseas, and it is always pleasant to see them back. Our recent topics have been "work, life balance", "rehabilitating prisoners" and "a person in history who inspires me."

These topics resulted in a lot of good discussion, better than you would expect. A great group of people, that it does you good to be with.

Convenor: Barry Dale

Famous, Infamous and Origins

The group will meet in the home of a member to enjoy an end of year, bring-a-plate lunch, which we do every year. Our group has remained stable throughout the year and will continue into 2018. We have room for a couple of new members who would be willing to join us in meeting in each other's homes on a roster system.

Convenor: Judy Lilley

Film Discussion

Owing to my and other members' absences last month, we postponed our meeting. The last one will be on Friday, 24 November in the Peninsula Village at 10 am when we look forward to another animated morning of sharing our viewings.

Convenor: Trish Litherland

Meditation

While Convenor, Bev, is away a core group of members wish to keep meeting and so the activity will continue in her absence.

Convenor: Bev Gomez

Memoirs

This group is winding up as Convenor, Bev, will be away for quite a bit of next year. Most of the group have completed the writing they wanted to do and some have moved away. Those remaining members who wish to continue writing will do it on their own or get in touch with Bev to get together for coffee, a read and a chat.

Regional New Zealand

Last month members spoke of their visits to Pirongia – (how many readers knew that Pirongia was previously known as Alexandria?), Bombay, (The Sikh Temple), Mercury Island and the surrounding Coromandel area, Cape Colville, the town, crafts and especially the oyster farming in the area, plus the facts about the farming town of Morrinsville.

23 November – members, please note this date in your diary now – we are meeting at our usual place for a get together with a difference, brunch to follow!

Our first meeting for the New Year will be held on Thursday 25 January. Why not join us and learn some facts that may surprise you!!

Convenor: Barbara Tucker

Small Films

Our group continues rehearsing for our web series and we expect to start filming before the end of the year. We are very pleased that our group is at full strength,

Convenor: Nancy Miller
